

Contents

Acknowledgments		8
Introduction	How to use this book	10
Chapter 1	Making art history
What do art historians do?		13
Wait—what is art?		13
A working definition of art
Art takes many shapes and uses many materials		15
Painting, prints, photography / Sculpture / Textiles, ceramics, and objects of all kinds / Architecture / Installation / Performance and video / Digital
What is “art history”?		30
Why study art history?		31
Art history and related disciplines		32
Art criticism / Sociology / Anthropology / Aesthetics / Cultural studies / Visual culture studies
Art out of context? Museums and art history		35
A brief history of museums / Museums and the experience of art
Art and its study can be controversial
Introducing art history’s toolbox: analysis of style, subject, and context		41
Conclusion		44
Chapter 2	Style and subject
Formal analysis		45
Box: Style		46
Formal elements		46
Color / Line / Space and mass / Scale / Composition
Three case studies in formal analysis		52
A Mimbres painted bowl / An Italian Gothic wall painting / A Persian painting within a lavish book
Two special types of formal analysis		58
Formalism / Connoisseurship
Box: Wölfflin and formal analysis		60
Iconography		62
Box: Panofsky’s iconography and iconology		63
Three case studies in iconography		66
A Mimbres bowl / Giotto’s wall painting / Sultan Muhammad’s manuscript painting
Conclusion		70

Chapter 3 Contextual analysis

Confronting our assumptions	71
The challenges of cross-cultural interpretation
Asking contextual questions	75
Iconology	78
Three case studies in iconology	79
A Mimbres bowl / Giotto's wall painting / Sultan Muhammad's manuscript painting
Some theoretical approaches to contextual analysis	85
Cultural studies and post-colonial theory / Feminisms / LGBTQ studies and queer theory / Marxism / Psychoanalysis and reception theory / Semiotics
Conclusion	90

Chapter 4 Surviving and succeeding: art-history examinations

Effective note-taking	91
Taking good notes in class / Developing a consistent shorthand / Taking notes on readings
Box: Class participation—why bother?	92
Preparing for slide identifications and short-answer questions	94
How to succeed at slide identifications / Three-step slide memorization / Memory and study aids / Unknowns
Box: Reading captions for information	98
Art-history essays	102
Studying for essay tests / Types of essay question
Conclusion	112

Chapter 5 Writing art-history papers

Art-historical arguments: opinion vs. interpretation	113
Formal-analysis papers	114
Taking notes / Structuring your paper / The comparison paper
Research papers	121
Developing a topic and starting your research / Keeping notes
Resources for research	127
Books / Periodicals / Websites
Box: How many sources should I use?	132
Critical moments in art-history writing	132
Developing a thesis / Writing an introductory paragraph / Sustaining your argument / Dealing with intentions /

The conclusion / Editing
Box: If you experience writer's block	139
Citations and bibliographies ( Chicago Manual of Style )	141
Citations / Bibliography or Works Cited / Plagiarism
Box: Putting together the illustrations	145
Writing style	146
Common stylistic pitfalls of art-history writing / Finding a voice

Conclusion	149
------------	-----

Conclusion	The rewards of studying art history	150
-------------------	--	------------

Appendix	A brief history of art history	152
-----------------	---------------------------------------	------------

Glossary	159
Bibliography	162
Index	165
Picture credits	168