

Contents

Preface	7
1. The history of visual merchandising	8	5. In-store visual merchandising	116
The Development of the Department Store	9	What Is In-store Visual Merchandising?	117
2. The role of a visual merchandiser	18	Product Adjacencies	120
What Makes a Good Visual Merchandiser?	19	Floor Layouts	122
The Day-to-day Role of a Visual Merchandiser	20	Platinum, Gold, Silver and Bronze Areas	125
Visual Merchandising in a Department Store	21	Store Study: Bodega	130
Key Roles	22	Fixtures and Fittings	134
Visual Merchandising of Multiple Chain Stores	25	Wall Fixtures	146
Visual Merchandising of Small Retail Outlets	28	Product Handling	150
Visual Merchandising Online	29	In-store Displays	160
Measuring Success	30	Hot Shops	163
3. Store design	32	Point of Sale and Add-on Sales	164
What Is Store Design?	33	Signage and Ticketing	166
Why Is Store Design Important?	34	Case Study: Colorset	172
Who Designs the Store?	36	Lighting	181
Pop-up Shops	38	Ambience	183
How Does Store Design Work?	41	Retail Maintenance and Budget	185
Store Study: Kurt Geiger	42	Case Study: Harlequin	186
4. Windows	46	6. Mannequins	192
The Importance of Windows	47	Choosing and Using Mannequins	193
Getting to Know Your Windows	50	Case Study: Hans Boodt Mannequins	196
Planning a Window Display	56	Purchasing Mannequins	202
Themes and Schemes	60	Dressing a Mannequin	205
Budgeting	67	Securing a Mannequin	209
Props	68	Grouping Mannequins	210
Designing a Window Display	74	Maintenance	211
Store Study: Printemps	80	7. Training, technology and tools	212
Colour	84	Training	213
Window Prepping	90	Portfolios	214
Installing the Window Display	92	Visual Merchandising Software	216
Store Study: Louis Vuitton	96	Equipment	218
Lighting	98	Tools	218
Signage and Graphics	100	Health and Safety	219
Film and Interactive Displays	105	Lighting Chart	220
Window Calendars	106	Glossary	221
Maintenance and Budget	110	Index	222
Store Study: Fortnum & Mason	112	Picture Credits and Acknowledgements	224